

NEIGHBORHOODING

The Office Design of Tomorrow is Here

With the demands of the hybrid workforce changing the way we work and play, the office needs to adapt — NEIGHBORHOODING IS THE FUTURE OF THE WORKPLACE.

DIVISION OF SPACE

Office neighborhoods are perfect for smaller groups that work more closely together than other parts of the company. Working closely with your group members helps foster better communication and collaboration. Reconsider how employees work together by designating space into communities that are organized by job functions or projects. Watch as productivity increases and overall company culture improves by making simple office arrangements.

COLLABORATIVE WORKSPACE

Create a multifunctional space that accommodates the employees who are in the office for collaborating with other team members, the ones looking for sparks of creativity that they can't find at home, and the employees who need a quiet space to focus. With workplace islands and sound dampening booths you can provide for each and every one of your employees' specific needs.

Neighborhooding flourishes in an open-concept office space because it provides the most flexibility to rearrange it to your liking. Anywhere can be a collaborative zone — even the office kitchen can be turned into a place for conversations and innovative ideas.

MODULAR WALLS

One of the most effective ways to divide the office into neighborhoods is with Modular Walls. The non-permanent walls are designed to be future-proofed that evolve as your office needs change. Move Modular Walls around to be as flexible as the rest of the furniture in your workspace. These walls can be used as room dividers and double as collaboration zones or quiet workplace areas.

Custom-design your Modular Walls to match the look and feel of the space or even act as a statement piece. Plus, add functional design features such as:

- Whiteboard laminate surfaces
- Tackboards or sound-dampening materials
- Built-in media displays
- Open cubbies, smart lockers, cabinets, drawers

SMART LOCKERS

Modular Walls can have smart lockers incorporated into them to double as a division of space and storage solution for employees. Place up against a wall or leave it to 'float' in the middle of the room to break up space. By providing employees with a secure place to store personal belongings, they will be able to easily adjust to the notion of hybrid working.

Design a locker bank to incorporate brand colors and logos, or more subtle to match the design of the workspace. Be creative and completely customize your smart lockers by incorporating biophilia, a variety of materials, and finishes.

When paired with smart locks, have a touchless experience by allowing employees to open locker doors with RFID cards, mobile credentials, or a smart app. Configure the lockers to your choosing with assigned, unassigned, or both — even visitors can have a place to store belongings when they come into the office.
